

Chris Cox

Speaker Chief Executive Officer Motivator

Executive Coach Master Facilitator

Amplifying results for leaders and teams.

As an entrepreneur and business leader, Chris brings a special skill set to organizations who value learning and development as a crucial component of success. A talented facilitator, professional speaker, motivator and executive coach, her proven principles and strategies are shaping senior leaders and their teams throughout the world. Of primary focus in her work are topics of leadership, communication, conflict resolution, self and team insight, resilience, coaching, mentoring, and improving overall team/organizational effectiveness.

Chris is the Founder and CEO of Amplitude, based in Reno, Nevada, focused on amplifying results for executives, leaders and teams. She is also recently retired as a Partner and continues as a Master Trainer Emeritus for Emergenetics International, headquartered in Denver and operating in over 30 countries around the world. The unique combination of these two roles has allowed her the opportunity to work with the best and brightest in both local and international settings.

Chris's professional background includes over 25 years in C-Level Human Resources/Organizational Development leadership in large health care systems in the USA. She holds an MBA from the University of Nebraska and undergraduate degrees in business and psychology from Doane College.

For fun, Chris drives racecars, swims with sharks, walks on hot coals and bends steel with her bare hands. She and her husband live and play in Reno/Lake Tahoe, Nevada.
